Carbondale Traction Company Can Extend Its Tracks. In an opinion handed down yesterday Judge Archbold dissolved the preliminary injunction heretofore granted E. J. Burke, Burgess, and the borough council of Archbold against the Carbondale Traction company. The rails of the traction company are laid as far as Moyle's hotel in Archbold and two weeks ago it began the work of extending lines to connect at Peckville with the line from Scranton. An injunction restraining the work was obtained by the Archbold borough authorities claiming that the franchise of the Carbondale Traction company to lay a road on the proposed route had expired by limitation. Judge Archbold holds that the right of the company was not forfeited by proper action of the council. He says: "It must be the action of the council itself moving by due resolution or ordinance, and nothing less than this will avail. Had a forfeiture been declared in this way no doubt the borough council have instituted proceedings to enforce it, but as the matter stands the bill, to say the least, premature and cannot apparently be sustained. The preliminary injunction issued under it must accordingly fall.

E. S. Stevens Charged with Selling Unmarked Skim Milk.

IS THE ACT UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Attorney R. H. Holgate Says That It Is and Asks That the Indictment Be Quashed—Judge Savidge Did Not Want to Rule Hastily on Such an Important Question—Other Cases Heard in the Temple of Justice.

E. S. Stevens, a milk dealer of this city, was put on trial before Judge Savidge in quarter sessions court yesterday afternoon, charged by Food Inspector Richard Thomas with having violated the act of 1885 by selling skim milk without having it properly marked as required by the act. It is the first case of the kind tried in the county, and the outcome of it will be watched with much interest by dealers in milk and by consumers generally.

The prosecution is conducted by District Attorney Kelly and City Solicitor Torrey and Attorney R. H. Holgate is defending Mr. Stevens in the spirited style for which he has won for him the cognomen of "Fighting Dick." After Mr. Stevens was arraigned Mr. Holgate moved that the indictment be quashed on the ground that the act was unconstitutional for the reason that it is special legislation and that the title and body of the bill are not in sympathy. Mr. Holgate argued that the title of the act gave no indication as to what the body of it contained. He argued further that it changes the rule of evidence in cities of the second and third class, which is expressly prohibited by the constitution.

SPECIAL VERDICT TO BE TAKEN. Mr. Torrey and Mr. Kelly argued forcibly and convincingly against the position taken by Mr. Holgate. Judge Savidge said it was such an important question that he would like time to consider the matter. He decided to allow the case to go to the jury and in case of conviction have a special verdict rendered reserving the questions raised by Mr. Holgate for further consideration.

Mr. Torrey opened the case for the prosecution and then Food Inspector Thomas was called to the stand. He testified that in January and February last he visited Mr. Stevens' milk depot and found the skim milk unmarked. He told the defendant he was violating the law and Mr. Stevens intimated that he had no fear of the law. Mr. Thomas, on cross examination, branched out into elaborate explanations which exasperated Judge Savidge. Mr. Thomas was on the stand when court adjourned for the day and turning to him the judge said: "Now you go home and spend tonight trying to learn how to answer questions in the most possible words. When you can answer with 'yes' or 'no,' do so."

A RACE WAR. Mrs. Julia Race was tried for assaulting Mrs. Cecelia Hinkley. The trouble was caused by two sheets lent by Mrs. Hinkley. The jury said not guilty and divided the costs equally. Haley Stone, of Mayfield, was returned not guilty of having used the registered bottles of A. E. Schreiber. The prosecutor will pay the other half. The assault and battery cases against George Prokspritz and Constable William Davis, of Olyphant, were on trial before Judge Sitter in the main court room all day.

MEETING OF POOR BOARD. Many Stories of Distress Listened to by Directors. The Scranton poor board met at its rooms yesterday afternoon, and although nothing out of the ordinary routine was transacted, quite an interesting session was held. The directors all seemed to have their swords with them. Mr. W. P. Connell and Mr. Swan seemed particularly bent on testing each other's resources of wit.

The usual number of applications for relief were heard and granted. Mr. Shannon reported the case of the two Lottard children, Katie, aged 12, and John, aged 10, whose mother is dead and whose father a worthless fellow who is now in jail and liable to be sent back again to that institution as soon as he gets his liberty. The girl is a cripple and ought to be sent to some medical institution for treatment. The board directed that she be indentured to St. Patrick's orphan asylum. Secretary Lynde read the following bids for sanitary work at the home: W. P. Connell & Son, steam pipe fittings, No. 349, five inch pipes, 25 cents per lineal foot; four-inch, 25 cents; replacing old covering on steam pipes, using new straps, 15 cents per lineal foot; Hunt & Connel, steam fittings, No. 309, alternative to the attempter that can be used in the work, four inch, 17 cents; five inch, 25 cents; six inch, 33 cents per lineal foot. Howley Bros., total bid of $402.05; Gunster & Forsyth, No. 435, and an allowance of 20 cents per lineal foot for 4 inch pipe, 30 cents for 5-inch and 15 cents for 6-inch. The allowances mentioned in the different bids are for any material when the board owns that can be used in the new work. The bids were referred to the home committee in conjunction with Architect Amalun, with full power to act. A number of bills were read and approved and the meeting adjourned.

Presented with a Flag. No. 36 school, Franklinavenue, was yesterday afternoon presented with a large silk American flag by Lieutenant Ezra Griffin Post, No. 140, Grand Army of the Republic. The presentation was made by Rev. N. F. Stahl, chaplain of the post, and was received by Commander F. F. Wormser in the absence of President Von Storch. The post left the rooms on Lackawanna avenue in complete rigalia at 2 o'clock in command of S. B. Mett, and proceeded by the Thirteenth Regiment Drum corps. Many of the school controllers and pupils witnessed the exercises in the yard at the front of the building.

Ice Water Tanks to Be Erected. Following clause upon the statement of the drugists that they sell soda water on Sunday because it is a necessary commodity for the Sabbath observing people for placing ice water tanks at convenient points in the business portion of the city. The Sabbath people say that their intention is to invalidate the excuse of the drugists and at the same time do good to humanity. It is understood that the first tank will be placed in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western depot square.

HEARING IN THE RYAN CASE.

Alderman Post Reserved His Decision Regarding It.

The hearing in Druggist D. S. Ryan's case for selling soda water on the Sabbath took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon before Alderman Post, Assistant Secretary Wylie, of the Young Men's Christian association, was the only witness to testify against Ryan. He said that while standing on the corner of Penn avenue and Spruce street about noon on Sunday, May 6, he saw three persons enter Ryan's drug store, walk up to the soda fountain, and drink three glasses of soda, paying for the same.

Attorneys J. Elliot Ross and T. P. Hoban, representing Druggist Ryan, subjected Wylie to a severe cross examination, but they were unable to shake his testimony. At one time when Mr. Ross was especially sarcastic in questioning the witness, Mr. Dony interfered with an objection. Mr. Ross retorted in this style: "I am not here to learn law today, Mr. Dony. I was properly admitted to the bar and have had some little experience. You might teach me some theology, though." "Very good," replied Mr. Dony, "but I'll watch you as you go along." When Attorneys Ross and Hoban got tired of asking questions to the witness, the former began to argue the matter before Alderman Post. Rev. Mr. Dony followed Mr. Ross, and the alderman reserved his decision until today.

CIRCUS NEXT THURSDAY.

Barnum & Bailey Show Will Give an Exhibition. The Barnum & Bailey Show will visit Scranton next Thursday, giving two exhibitions. The day previous the show will appear in Wilkes-Barre. As to which of the two valley towns will give the largest attendance, the managers of the show are curious. The people of Wilkes-Barre are constantly boasting that their city is the best show town, a contention which Scranton can by no means agree to. The experience of the Barnum show has always been that Scranton fills its tent.

The reports of the show this season are enthusiastically in its favor. It is said to be a brighter and better performance than for several seasons, affording in the ethnological congress, a decided circus novelty, and one which is full of interest for all classes, and for both old and young. This feature of the show made an immense hit in the Madison Square garden, New York. The two giant gorillas, Citko and Johanna, the only two living in captivity anywhere in the world, is another strong feature of the exhibition. The three Eugenes, the most marvelous acrobats ever seen in this country, are the sensation of the performance in the circus tent.

PUPILS PROVE PROFICIENCY.

Excellent Recital Given at St. Cecilia's Academy. The annual May recital of the pupils in the music department of St. Cecilia's academy, under the auspices of the Sisters of the Samaritan Hospital, was given yesterday in St. Cecilia's hall.

Space forbids the publication of the quite lengthy and delightful programme. The address of welcome was composed and delivered by Miss Mamie Schroeder, and was a master piece. Special mention is deserved of the solo, "Queen of Earth," by Miss Mary Dunn, and the instrumental numbers by Misses Colligan and Longhlin. The pupils of the first grade acquitted themselves in a creditable way. The success of the recital must be attributed to Sister Beatrice, who worked indefatigably and earnestly. The hall was crowded with the parents and friends of the pupils.

FUNERAL OF A. J. MAHON.

Interment Was Made in Danmore Catholic Cemetery. There was a very large attendance at the funeral of the late Andrew J. Mahon yesterday morning at St. Peter's cathedral, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. Rev. Father O'Reilly officiated and was assisted by Rev. M. F. Crane, of Avoca; Rev. M. J. Millan and Rev. P. J. Golden.

BURIED UNDER A WEIGHT OF ROCK.

Jackin Joseph Sustains Probably Fatal Injuries. Jackin Joseph, of Cayuga street, sustained injuries that in all probability prove fatal, while at work in the Cayuga mine yesterday. Joseph was a miner and was attending to his duties when a fall of roof overpowered him. He was buried some time before his fellow laborers succeeded in liberating him. His skull was fractured, ribs broken, and his body is a mass of lacerated and contused wounds. His life is in imminent danger.

A DAUGHTER OF DIXIE.

Sale of Seats for It Is Reported to Be Very B. L. K. The management of the Press club reports rapid sales of seats for "A Daughter of Dixie," to be given at the Frothingham Monday and Tuesday nights for the benefit of the club. The play is said to be the best production of Don L. Hart, the Wilkes-Barre journalist and playwright. The plot is laid in the south and special scenery has been painted by Mr. Fetters, the scenic artist who produced the Frothingham's settings and curtains.

It isn't often that two newly wedded couples are content with enjoying a honeymoon trip together, and to such a case, the old saw that "two's a company and three's a crowd," seems particularly applicable. Yet such an event will follow the weddings next week Wednesday of Miss Bertha Longshore, of Millin avenue, to John Hughes, of Green Ridge, and Miss Mame Hughes, of Penn avenue, to Will Tunstall, of Washington avenue. Each wedding will be a house ceremony at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Tunstall will depart together for an extended tour to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and points of interest in the south. Mr. Hughes is well and well favoredly known in the business fraternity and is the manager of Pierce's market. Mr. Tunstall is connected with the Providence Register.

Scranton society had an attack of ennui during the week, which in a measure was due to the presence of many from this city at the Honedale Company E. Kirmess. The city companies of the Thirteenth went over Wednesday and it was but natural that the young ladies should go, as well as some of the older folk. Among those in attendance from here were Mrs. Lynton B. Oakford, Colonel and Mrs. H. M. Boise, Miss Mame Mason, Miss Mame Charlesworth, Mrs. Sidney Henwood, Mrs. D. Gilbert, John Blackwood and Albert G. Hunt. Miss Both Archbold and Miss Lou Welles were kirmess visitors and entertained by Miss Holmes; Miss Helen and Miss Hunt were entertained by Miss Stanton.

The exodus for Europe has already begun and several well known people will brave the tortures of a sea voyage for the pleasures of the other shore. Mr. and Mrs. George Sanderson and their eldest son, E. E. Sanderson, of Cornell '94, will sail the first of July.

Speaking of kirmesses, Scranton seems to be favored with the probability of one of these entertainments, which seems to be the prevailing fad in its particular line, about the first week in October. Miss Stewart, the successful manageress of the Honedale affair, has been approached by different societies of Scranton people in the matter. The entertainment will be given at the Frothingham for the benefit of one of several objects which appeal to the support of the people generally.

The Pennsylvania Library club is a comparatively new organization which is meeting with much favor among the book lovers to whom the processes of books have direct interest. Thursday night it held a meeting in the pleasant rooms of the Wyoming Historical society, of Wilkes-Barre. Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Carr of this city attended. The object of the club is to promote fraternal relations among the librarians of the almost forty selected towns. The discussion of which Mr. Carr participated. The Record says: "Mr. Carr took a view opposite to that held by Mr. Thompson in the matter of closing the library shelves containing works of fiction, and maintained that these, being almost entirely selected from, should be of easier access than all other works in the library. He was also liberal in the matter of selection of works."

Following the social depression of the early part of the week, society today will be all agog over the Cornell-Lehigh base ball game at Hogan park this afternoon. The young ladies who have brothers or are interested in other girls' brothers attending either college are planning to flaunt college colors during the game and root their favorites to victory. An athletic rivalry of long standing exists between the two universities and the game will prove a battle royal from start to finish. It is quite probable that many citizens, generally sedate and dignified, will witness the game and yell and otherwise disport themselves for the encouragement of the alma mater team and furnish amusement for some platonic spectators. Reception and entertainment committees have been appointed to make the visit of the college cohorts one long to be remembered.

The grand stand will be decorated with carmelita and white and seal brown and white, respectively symbolic of Cornell and Lehigh.

The Schubert quartette will accompany the Scranton Press club on the excursion to New York today. The quartette is composed of Messrs. John T. Watkins, Will Watkins, D. M. Davis and James Ansell. The quartette has also been engaged to sing at the annual meeting of Masons at Lake Ariel next week.

E. E. Southworth will preside at the organ at St. Luke's church tomorrow in the absence of Mr. Conant, who is in Massachusetts.

A Perseverance banquet was held at the home of H. V. Smith, 427 North Main avenue, on Thursday evening, at which the following members of the club were present: J. R. Randolph, I. L. Smith, Howell G. Reese, Chester Cammer, G. A. Bender, Chester Cammer, Jr., L. A. Clark and others. The banquet was all that heart could wish. A very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent.

The young ladies of Danmore entertained their friends by giving a social at the Odd Fellows' hall on Thursday evening. It was an enjoyable affair and largely attended. Music was furnished by Miss Nellie Curran. Among those present were Misses Christ, Farrar, Capwell, Warfel, Angwin, Bantian, Miller, Vipond, MacDonald, Gray, Pinckney, Horan, Chamberlain, Curran, McHale, Ostercut, Owens, Pit-tack, Williams, Richards, Krause, Kiecol, Sheppard, Williams, Watrons, Finney, Bronson, Fowler, Hancock, Krager, Edith and Lizzie Wer-mann and Jennie Oliver, Palmer and Mace, and Messrs. Mrs. P. S. Page, of Washington avenue, gave a delightful reception to the Girls' Friendly society of St. Luke's church on Thursday evening. Among the enjoyable features were musical selections by Mr. Conant, organist, and Miss Julia Allen, the well-known violinist. The reception was well attended and was a very pleasant affair.

Ham of Scranton, son of Hon. T. J. Ham of Honedale, is in town. The former was at one time a printer, and the latter a well known editor and county judge—Wilkes-Barre Record.

The Edwardsdale correspondent of the Wilkes-Barre Record pleasantly congratulates D. C. Powell, of Scranton, formerly of Edwardsdale, upon his appointment as soliciting agent for the Cambrian Mutual Insurance company. Mr. and Mrs. James Gibney, of Jackson street, and Mrs. M. J. Fabry, of North Main street, called on Honedale to attend the funeral of Mrs. Fabry's mother, Mrs. Patrick Gibney, which will occur at that place this morning. Miss Gertrude Becker entertained a number of friends last evening. Among them were Miss Gibbs, Miss Wade, Miss Walker, Miss Vipond, Miss Richards, Miss Jessie Becker and Mrs. Johnson, of Nicholson. The following gentlemen were present: John Walker, Frank Mansfield and Robert Walker. Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs W. U. Reynolds, of this borough, cannot yet account for the disappearance of Henry Harding, the well-known Wyoming lawyer. No clue has been had of him since he was in Scranton. It is ascertained that he took $5,000 in gold, quite a haul to carry, and would argue that he had gone off to some foreign country. He left his wife with some $10,000 and several houses and other property, amounting to between $20,000 and $30,000. Mr. Harding's business was worth about $5,000 a year, and there is no embarrassment, the mystery seems hard to solve, indeed.

S. L. Perry from Scranton, a brother of the Perry Bros., music dealers, went to Chicago several months ago on business concerning a piano action of which he is the inventor. From there he went to Mount Pleasant, his former home, to repair a pipe organ he built some years ago, which was somewhat damaged by a recent cyclone. The repairs were so successfully made that Senator Hartin (Lincoln's Secretary of the Interior and whose daughter married Robert Lincoln) hearing it played, liked it so well that he induced Mr. Perry to remain and build a large three manual organ for the Iowa Wesleyan University of Mount Pleasant.—Wilkes-Barre Record.
